OUR MENTOR

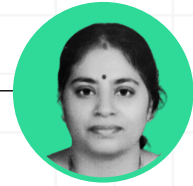

Shashank,

Started his stock market journey in 2019. He has guided and mentored over 1,000 students, inspiring the next generation of traders for the past six years. His passion for financial independence was sparked during his college years, motivating him to pursue a career in the stock market. After earning his professional graduation degree, Shashank embarked on his path to becoming a professional trader and began offering mentorship to those eager to learn.

Through this experience, he has debunked many common myths about the stock market, developing straightforward, practical methods for making profitable and informed decisions. His time working with a stock brokerage has given him a unique, profitable perspective on both trading and investing. Throughout his trading journey, Shashank recognized a gap in proper mentorship and the lack of knowledge many people had about the stock market. He is committed to promoting the benefits of stock trading, emphasizing how it can foster both financial freedom and strategic personal growth.
